Monday 9th February 2015

Classroom News: TIMES

Math:

In Math, we are completing a final assessment on Area and Perimeter to real world problems. We will be moving onto Fractions! We will be working on understanding fractions as a quantity formed by one whole being partitioned into equal parts. We will be learning how to find the equivalence of fraction and compare by reasoning about their size.

Language Arts:

In Reading, we are working on Biographies. We learned about Babe Ruth today, and we will be reading about a famous person we chose for ourselves. We are looking and identifying what makes a biography.

Social Studies:

We will be finishing up with our "Geography and Landforms" unit. We will be comparing our landscape to others in this state. We will be writing facts about mountains, coastal and piedmont. Ask your child what interesting facts they found out about NC! We will be taking an assessment on Wednesday as this will be our last lesson for the unit.

Writing:

Students have been forming their ideas, and working on character change and descriptions of events. We will be spending this week publishing it in our "Writing Time". Ask your child on Friday for their final published piece of writing.

Writing/Social Studies: I have graded most of the Discovery Education boards for Dirty Smelly Colonies. I will be giving the students a break from reading and encourage them to be writing a Limerick at home to finish off our Poetry Unit. Please allow them time to publish/print and return to school. If you are unable to print, please send it to me via email and I will happy to print it off at school.

"You wouldn't want to sail on the Mayflower" is the next book.

Points to remember:

Field Trip - Science FUN for Everyone is visiting our classroom on Wednesday 11th February @ 2:15pm - 3:30pm.

Mark your calendars for upcoming Science Night!! Thank you for donating what items we needed!! Much appreciated! Can't wait to see you all there!

Early Release is this Friday. Mark your calendars!

Mrs. Bloomfield gave every student a white paper bag. Please use this week to decorate it for Valentine's Day and bring it on Friday.
